Proudly present

The Fifteenth Annual "Staten Island Angel Award"

Honoring

Valerie Strange

More than three decades ago, Valerie joined the "Rainbow Society" to connect with other doctors' wives and contribute to the Staten Island Community. Today, this group is known as Staten Island University Hospital's Service Auxiliary – the oldest continuous auxiliary in the United States. Valerie has been an integral part in both the hospital and auxiliary's success; serving as treasurer and sitting on the Board for 8 years, co-chairing the hospital's Golf Outing for 14 years, co-chairing the Charity Ball for 2 years, sitting on several committees, and introducing the "Stay-at-Home Tea" fundraiser. Valerie has devoted her efforts to giving back to those who need it most. She has been a major driving-force behind the Joseph Maffeo Foundation's endeavors, including the renovation of the North Campus Pediatric Unit and the state-of-the-art neonatal intensive care unit currently underway in the new Women & Newborn Center.

We are grateful for Valerie's dedication and commitment to improving Staten Island with compassion, humility, and grace.

Together we are doing wonderful things at
Staten Island University Hospital

Sometimes the smallest things take up the most room
 in your heart.
 – Winnie the Pooh

Parents eagerly anticipate bringing their newborn home, so it can be frightening if their baby is admitted into the neonatal intensive care unit. To enhance the capability and care, help us continue our efforts as we focus on the construction of the brand new Joseph Maffeo Neonatal Intensive Care Unit. The NICU delivers the latest in life-saving technologies and treatments along with the highly attentive care these tiny babies need.

Home of the new Joseph Maffeo Neonatal ICU

The Joseph Maffeo Foundation is proud and extremely honored to once again join the elite medical team and staff at SIUH Northwell Health. This relationship will help provide the necessary facilities and environment enabling the NICU staff to provide the outstanding care and support they strive to give.

Project Update: On September 26, 2018, Staten Island University Hospital broke ground on a new 12,600-square-foot power plant to protect vital infrastructure from dangerous storms and floods. This new hazard mitigation project is the first step in the construction of the brand new Women & Newborn Center, which will house the Joseph Maffeo NICU.
