The Joseph Maffeo Foundation's Staten Island Angel Award

SEVENTEENTH ANNUAL

Karyn Treval, RN

Through her service as Staten Island University Hospital - Northwell Health's Deputy Chief Nursing Officer, Karyn Treval stands as a prominent pillar of the Staten Island community, always helping those in need.

Karyn's commitment and passion have been an integral part of the SIUH Emergency Department's success, and her leadership is a driving force behind The Joseph Maffeo Foundation's endeavors, specifically the development of the Joseph Maffeo Neonatal Intensive Care Unit.

We are eternally grateful for Karyn's dedication towards making our world a better place with her tenacity, humility, and grace.

PROJECT UPDATE: The Joseph Maffeo Neonatal Intensive Care Unit

Thanks to the unwavering confidence, trust, and support of the Staten Island community, the Joseph Maffeo Foundation is able to continue providing the elite medical team and staff at SIUH with the necessary facilities and environment needed in order to provide the superior level of care they strive to give. Nothing we have done, or plan to do, would be possible without you - and The Joseph Maffeo Neonatal Intensive Care Unit is certainly no exception. This new unit will deliver the latest in life-saving technologies and treatments along with the highly attentive care these tiny babies need; all while providing a non-threatening, family friendly environment. Join us for Casino Night 2023 as we continue on our incredible journey towards making our world a better place!

The Joseph Maffeo NEONATAL INTENSIVE CARE UNIT

*Making our world
a better place*

Joseph Maffeo

The Joseph Maffeo Neonatal Intensive Care Unit

This Neonatal Intensive Care Unit is dedicated to the legacy of New York City firefighter Joseph Maffeo, whose memory continues to inspire a new generation of philanthropy on Staten Island.

Since his heroism on September 11, 2001, through The Joseph Maffeo Foundation's mission of "Making the World a Better Place," thousands of community members have generously supported the pediatric programs here at Staten Island University Hospital, including this life-saving unit that cares for the most vulnerable of our children.

Staten Island University Hospital is proud to partner with The Joseph Maffeo Foundation and to thank the many generous donors to our Neonatal Intensive Care Unit, especially these NICU Benefactors whose vision and generosity made this a reality.

“ The Joseph Maffeo Foundation has been a powerful movement for philanthropy on Staten Island. To take action through tragedy and get people going in the same direction for a common goal is truly remarkable.

They bring people together and create a web of giving.
