The Joseph Maffeo Foundation's Staten Island Angel Award

— NINETEENTH ANNUAL —

Mary Beth Springstead

Since her journey at Staten Island University Hospital began in 1993, Mary Beth has spent the last three decades dedicated to our most valuable resource – our team members. From her start as a compensation analyst, all the way through to her current role as Associate Executive Director of Human Resources, Mary Beth has remained committed to improving team member experience, learning and career development, and fostering relationships with our union partners.

Being a life-long Staten Islander and attending St. Joseph by the Sea High School sparked Mary Beth’s desire to serve her community and instilled in her the values that have defined her career: care, compassion, and diligence.

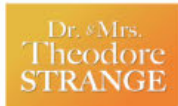

After receiving her master’s degree from New York University, Mary Beth knew she wanted to devote her career to the selfless pursuit of inspiring and supporting team members to reach their full potential. Over the last 30 years, Mary Beth has consistently demonstrated her dedication to her community and improving the well-being of Staten Island University Hospital’s team members. We thank her for her distinguished contributions to the Staten Island community, and for her commitment towards making our world a better place.

PROJECT UPDATE: The Joseph Maffeo Neonatal Intensive Care Unit

Thanks to the unwavering confidence, trust, and support of the Staten Island community, the Joseph Maffeo Foundation is able to continue providing the elite medical team and staff at SIUH with the necessary facilities and environment needed in order to provide the superior level of care they strive to give. Nothing we have done, or plan to do, would be possible without you - and The Joseph Maffeo Neonatal Intensive Care Unit is certainly no exception. This new unit will deliver the latest in life-saving technologies and treatments along with the highly attentive care these tiny babies need; all while providing a non-threatening, family friendly environment. Join us for Casino Night 2025 as we continue on our incredible journey towards making our world a better place!
